*Rigvir is an adapted oncolytic ECHO-7 virus used in cancer virotherapy – a highly promising form of cancer treatment that uses viruses to target, infect and kill cancer cells. Rigvir is a non-pathogenic and non-genetically modified virus that selectively replicates in cancer cells and kills them without damaging healthy cells. It also helps to boost the body's natural ability to fight cancer. Rigvir is currently used to treat many forms of cancer. It is well tolerated and does not cause severe side effects. Rigvir has been clinically proven in 20 years of practice.
